

BANGKOK GEMS & JEWELRY FAIR 61ST EDITION FEBRUARY 2018

For Immediate Release

An Eye-Opening Experience at the 61st Bangkok Gems and Jewelry Fair

The 61st Bangkok Gems and Jewelry Fair has drawn over 900 exhibitors, both domestic and international, from countries and regions as diverse as Hong Kong, Poland, Turkey, Japan, Singapore, India, South Korea, Israel, Indonesia and Canada. Buyers also flock to the show. Some are repeat visitors reacquainting themselves with established customers, others are entrepreneurs starting out in the industry and here for the first time.

Toronto-based Ms. Anita Agrawal, CEO of Best Bargains, has been coming to Bangkok Gems and Jewelry Fair since 2007. In addition to selling her own designs, she is here to purchase raw materials. “We come back for the gemstones – Thailand is still a great source for color gemstones – and to meet with our international clients from Australia etc,” she says. “It’s very accessible here and not as costly as other shows.”

Australian Mr. Callum Osborne, of Chains Collection, is a newcomer to Bangkok Gems and Jewelry Fair. He arrived looking for a new factory to source his custom-made designs, and leaves having discovered one. "I'm very happy I came," he says. "I'll definitely return next year. It has opened my eyes to the huge amount of stones available; it's truly amazing. You get a real feel for the industry."
